There is hardly a thought that we eat, drink, breathe, that isn't plumb dandy. The anti-salt proponents have resulted in more people collapsing from lack of sodium than from fatal amounts of this essential mineral. Just the other

TFU Pleased With PIK Sign Up

Waco — The President of Texas Farmers Union announced today that he was extremely encouraged by the response of Texas farmers to the Payment-in-Kind (PIK) Farm Program, and issued a call for all farm organizations to work together for a long-term program to provide continuous supply management of agricultural commodities.
TFU head Mike Mueller, who farms in Hay and Guadalupe Counties, expressed optimism with regard to participation by Texas farmers so well as farmers throughout the United States to the 1983 crop land diversion program. Mueller emphasized that of the 88 million acres of crop land that will be (CONT. ON PAGE 6A)

Water Bonds for Low Cost Loans Being Proposed

Austin — Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower and state Sen. John Montford (D-Lubbock) Thursday presented details of a water conservation proposal that potentially could save almost 200 times as much water as Texas presently drink.
The proposed constitutional amendment, co-sponsored by Senators Montford and Bill Barlow (D-Fort Worth), would create a Water Conservation and Conservation Loan Fund to make low-interest money available to Texas farmers to convert to more (CONT. ON PAGE 3A)

Higher Feeding Costs, Lower Feeder Prices Have Feeders Wondering About Effects, Farmers Get Cash Out Front

The massive sign-up in the payment-in-kind (PIK) program presented farmers by the USDA caught not only Government people, but the grain and livestock traders by surprise. There is no doubt the effects in all areas of agriculture will be tremendous and the week all concerned were trying to figure out just what the changes will be.
Cattle feeders are looking for higher feed costs, which may be offset by lower prices they will get for the cattle they rushed to buy to graze these (CONT. ON PAGE 3A)

Farm Bureau Labels PIK "Big Boost"

Park Ridge, Ill. March 22 — The nation's largest organization of farmers greeted today's announcement of widespread farmer participation in President Reagan's "Payment in Kind" (PIK) program as "a big boost along the way to farm recovery."
It's a welcome omen, terms action" said Robert S. Delano, president of the 8.2 million member American Farm Bureau Federation. "What reasons is the long term commitment to reducing supplies to levels reasonable enough to allow market factors to work, and to permit farmers to make some money."
Delano cited USDA reports that 36 percent-well over one-third of our cropland planted to wheat, corn and (CONT. ON PAGE 6A)

Cattle Raisers Wrestle With Major Issues At Convention

FORT WORTH, March 24—Members of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, meeting in Austin last week for their 100th annual convention, wrestled with major issues facing the nation and the livestock industry. TSCRA President F. Lee Seelgeason, who led the 1,800 cattlemen that the U.S. must keep the problems of Mexico in mind when addressing immigration reform if Americans don't want to see another El Salvador across the Rio Grande.

Seelgeason, a San Antonio rancher, sketched a disturbing picture of Mexico's instability. He cited its high unemployment and a rapidly growing population with half of its citizens under the age of 17 no ingredients for potential unrest. As the U.S. biggest oil exporter and third-largest trading partner, Mexico must play a major role in any consideration of immigration reform, he said. The current legislation on immigration facing Congress is by and large "window dressing," he advised.

"We would rather have nothing than a measure that promises hope, defuses us into tranquility and leaves us with the problem unresolved," Seelgeason said.
The cattlemen were advised to work on the H-2 program for non-immigrant foreign workers to help stabilize the work force in agriculture. Seelgeason, who has testified on the immigration bill, criticized the current H-2 program as enmeshed in bureaucratic red tape, but said TSCRA would work with Congress. (CONT. ON PAGE 6A)

Storm Market, Higher Beef Boost Fed Cattle, Hog Prices Mixed

Reduced supplies of slaughter cattle and hogs due to the winter storm appeared at the central markets on Monday. Fed steers and heifers were mostly firm to sharply higher. The short supplies and a stronger market for carcasses beef in the opening trade boosted prices. Hog prices were lower in the Western Cornbelt and opened higher in the Eastern Cornbelt, however, some markets posting early gains reported trade moved or at standstill around midseason. Most markets reported (CONT. ON PAGE 6A)

Feed grains, cotton and rice will be taken out of production in a process finalized by the sign-up for the PIK program. Participating are 88 percent of the wheat growers, as many as 78 percent of corn and feed grain producers, 85 percent of cotton producers and 88 percent of rice producers. "All this," Dolano said, "is important evidence that farmers want to clear away price depressing surpluses and produce for markets and not government storage bins."

Dolano said he thought the PIK program designed to return excess stocks of government-held commodities to farmers who produced them, in return for an agreement to cut back production across-the-board would have the effect of reducing production expenses for participating farmers, and improve farm income for 1983. "More than that," he said, "is our hope that it will have a cleansing effect of phasing in supply to demand and positioning farmers for a better run in the marketplace."

"While we're glad to see the impetus that a program like PIK can bring to the farm economy," he said, "the long term goal is national economic health that agriculture can only reflect. Dolano said Farm Bureau would be pressing for its "freeze and fix" program to freeze federal expenditures at present levels over a three year period, and to make substantial revisions in federal operating programs."

gress in making the program more workable for the continued production of food and fiber.

Admiral Bobby R. Inman, former CIA deputy director, expressed similar concerns on global instability. In a brief history lesson on the growth of Communism, Inman called for a national consensus on national security policy. He said the U.S. can ill afford to be inelastic in making national security its number one priority. Inman, a native Texan and intelligence expert, gave the keynote address of the convention.

The cattlemen were challenged by the president of the National Cattlemen's Association to stop up industry and individual efforts to help make beef more competitive and to increase consumer demand for their product.

W.J. "Dub" Waldrip, NCA president from Lubbock, Texas, reminded cattlemen that basic consumer preference for beef remains strong. As evidence, he cited the much greater consumer expenditures for beef than for any other meat. However, he expressed worry about beef's position in the very competitive protein food market.

William L. Moore, chairman of the Beef Industry Council of the National Live Stock and Meat Board from Richmond, Texas, echoed Waldrip's concerns about the marketing problems of beef. But, on a decidedly positive note, Moore reviewed the industry's more recent efforts to aggressively resolve those problems. Moore noted that cattlemen will spend almost $10.7 million for beef promotion, research and information in fiscal year 1983.

Cattlemen were urged to redouble their efforts to support a voluntary 25-cent check off for beef promotion when they market cattle. In the first 10 months of the 1982-83 fiscal year, Texas cattlemen voluntarily donated $1.1 million in that effort.

TSCRA Secretary-General Manager Don C. King of Fort Worth told the cattlemen the 106-year-old association now has 14,411 members rendering 2,206,750 head of cattle the highest cattle production in its history.

TSCRA's market inspectors looked at over 6.5 million head of cattle at the state's auction markets and terminal stockyards in 1982. In its law enforcement efforts, TSCRA field inspectors developed 165 theft cases, primarily involving cattle thefts, during 1982 in cooperation with other state and local law officers, King said. "The average value of property recovered or accounted for each day amounted to $3,126.81," King said.

TSCRA re-elected for the coming year Seeligen as president, John M. "Jack" Shelton III of Amarillo as first vice president; J.E. Birdwell II of Lubbock as second vice president; and King as secretary-general manager. Also elected as new board members were J.J. Gibson of Guthrie, Texas, and Buddy Jallars of Ennis, Texas.

day some hare-brained asprouts came out with the idea that some 600 to 600 toxic chemicals MAY be lurking in the meat supply waiting to accumulate in our bodies and do us in. The vegetarians who are trying to allminate meat, fish and fowl from our diets claim animal foods are resaultin' in hundreds of thousands of premature deaths among the populace and this kind of gossip just does not jibe with the facts that folks are living longer and longer and as a result Social Security is havin' to hike the retirement age to avoid bankruptcy.

One of the things we have observed over the years is that one way to sort the gossip from the facts is to study the source of the news. For instance, when our aida says somethin' and the Comlos rear up and yell bloody murder, the chances are our side was right on target. When someone suggests there is more hokum than facts involved in what some of these apical interest people present as truth, you can rest assured the facts were right by the amount of screachin' & Hollerin' it generates.

It is hard for us to believe that these journalistic gossips, who will pick up any kind of story to pass it along as facts instead of fiction, have got such a gullible audience in these United States as to really do a lot of damage. The problem seems to be that folks with good sense just don't make as much noise as these so-called Advocates of this, that or the other, and it seems to be a case of these nava persons gittin' mixed up on what is cows and what is entertainment.

The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk says one of his East Texas epics reported a ootable quote the other day. It was to the effect that if we put the Govmint in charge of the 8share desert, we could surely expect a shortage of sand pronto. Dunk figures that regardless of which Budget is finally adopted that of the Administration or the House, the results will be the same. More taxes, more waste, more giveaways, and there really ain't much one to worry about it. Whatever the figures are, there is always that cute trick called Supplemental Appropriations (that will be slipped over. The politicians waste a lot of time on makin' budgets, and about the only thing they accomplish is that it keeps 'em outta more serious miscblan' — Thassell, Brothers!

The 1983 festivities will begin Friday night with the sale of more than 150 juried pieces of fine art. The section features paintings of such subject as Italy's Poets Vecchio and other now works created by the versatile WHS artists during a recent trip to Europe.

On Saturday night, veteran auctioneer Omerd Bowls will call the shots in the Grand Ballroom as 25 Quarter Horses, 25 Santa Gertrudis and 25 select works of art go to the highest bidder.

A $100,000 Santa Gertrudis Futurity - the first ever held - is a special feature this year. The prize money will be awarded in October at a Futurity and sale to celebrate the opening of the Texas State Fair in Dallas.

Western Heritage Art Show Premieres at Merchants State Bank

Dallas — A lone stagecoach traveling across barren plains, a surprise Apollo ambush on a narrow mountain trail—these are just a sampling of the scenes of the great American West to be displayed in an exclusive showing of fine art beginning April 6 at Merchants State Bank in Dallas.
The exhibit, which runs for approximately six weeks, will be the only opportunity for the public to view a collection of new multi-media artwork created by renowned artists specifically for the 1983 Western Heritage Art Show. The Western Heritage Art Show is the world-famous black-tie auction of the art of the American West, Santa Gertrudis cattle and American Quarter Horses held each year in the Grand Ballroom of the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston. Sponsored by Texas Governor J. Lee Roy, former Texas Governor John Connally, and Houston civic leader Frank R. Pearce, Jr., the by-invitation-only event is set for May 19-24 and is again expected to bring record-setting prices for art, cattle and horses.
In addition to the public exhibit, Merchants State Bank Chairman Fred J. Brooks and Bank President David A. Flynn are hosting a private preview and reception April 4 honoring the artists and sponsors. This is the second year that Brooks and Flynn, both avid collectors of fine art, have hosted the reception and exhibit.
Distinguished artists whose work will be on display include such notable as: William A. Adair, James B. Burke, Duane Bryers, Paul Calk, G. Harvey, Harvey Johnson, James Kramer, Tom Lovell, Gary Niblett, Bill Owen, Robert Pummill, Jim Reno, Kenneth R. Morris Rippel, Lowell Ellsworth Smith, Gordon Snidow, Bettina Steink, Pat Strick, John Stobart, Ray Swanson, Howard Terpning, William Whitaker, Wayne Wolfe, Ed Fraughton, Tony Subanks, Clark Hullings, Oly Stavrowsky and Ramon Kelley.
The Western Heritage Art Show exhibit may be seen at Merchants State Bank, 6217 Ross Avenue, during regular lobby hours from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday.

Commodities Comment

Weak Ending March 24, 1983
If you want to see a "fast track" watch these commodity and stock markets. Prices are flying all over the place with all sorts of bullish or bearish news. The grain markets now look so bullish due to the PIK Program that prices appear headed for the moon. Livestock prices, however, due to a very bearish Pig Crop Report, collapsed this past week under massive selling. In other words there's a little of something for everyone. One thing is for sure...there are plenty of games to play.

The grain markets exploded on the upside for the second week in a row. The PIK Program that the Reagan Administration has been pushing has pumped the grain markets to their highest level in a year. In essence, grain seed cotton farmers will take 82.3 million acres out of production this year. This is nearly 80 million acres more than officials hoped would be idled. Following the PIK announcement soybeans closed up 24 cents, wheat up 12 cents, and corn up 5 cents. If there are any weather problems this year, these grain markets will skyrocket! Based on early weather forecasts a long dry summer seems probable. Don't be shy!

The Mercantile Exchange got hit with a pretty bearish Pig Crop Report. It seems that hog producers are gearing up at a much faster rate than previously thought. I guess the recent price rise in food costs was no real deterrent to increasing production. Following the Pig Crop Report pork bellies dropped 600 points and hogs $3.00. It's obvious that the bears are in total control of the pork complex. The only ray of hope for a rally is that the hog market tends to set a low in late March. So a rally would be normal at this time. At this writing July bellies closed at $70.47, July hogs $52.72, and June cattle $57.87.

The metals have no real direction. It still seems they are trading water waiting for some sort of news. The silver and gold could still be in a guiding situation with much lower prices still to come. The metals at this time are nearly featureless and untradeable. Trade at your own risk!

Which Way From Here?
In spite of this week's rally in most markets (including the stock market), I'm still uneasy being a raving bull. I'd like to watch the Fed's action here near-

Brown/Johnson Sell Beefmaster Bulls For $1865 Average

Mickey Johnson, Cow Creek Beefmaster, Comanche, OK, and Paul Brown, Shorthorn Beefmasters, Dumas, OK, held their First Annual Joint Beefmaster Range Bull Sale, March 19 in Dumas. The 78 bulls totaled $145,800 for a $1865 average.

There was a capacity crowd in attendance to enjoy the Oklahoma hospitality and purchase top range bulls. Thirty-nine buyers representing four states took part in the strong sale.

Top selling bull went to Dry Creek Beefmasters, Marianna, FL, at $10,500, with Seven W Ranch of Dallas, TX, taking the next two top bulls at $70,000 and $7500. Seven W was also the volume buyer of the sale.

Thompson Cattle Marketing, Inc. of San Antonio, managed the sale and Gerald Bowie was the auctioneer.

Duck Polled Hereford Tops Cleburne Sale

At the recent Texas Polled Hereford Association's All Female Sale in Cleburne, Texas, J K B Alpine 150 Z, the tallest sale cow at 54 inches, sold for $1,025 to De Haven Payne of Temple, Texas for his Lampasas Ranch. She is sired by the Canadian-bred bull, Justamare Alpine 150 Z, a Gold Trophy, Gold Seal, and Superior Sire developed by Bill Wolfe of Wallawa, Oregon, who is an American Polled Hereford Assoc. Director.

Duck is retaining a daughter in his herd to replace this popular cow, and her last calf is herdsire for Mack Boyd of Wingate, Texas.

Politics Caused High Natural Gas Prices

Washington — The president of one of the most politically influential organizations in Texas told the fossil fuel subcommittee of the powerful House Energy and Commerce Committee today that, "It's senseless that some consumers in Texas pay more for natural gas produced in their own backyard than homeowners using Texas gas 1000 miles away in Chicago."

Harold E. "Gene" Wright, who heads the 6,400-member Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said that "the tangled mass of federal controls" has slashed away from consumers and producers the opportunity to do anything about rising prices.

"Much of the problem originates in how the pipeline system must operate," Wright related. "Texas producers sell their gas for an average of less than $2.50. By the time that gas gets to eastern consumers it's sometimes sold for three times that amount and sometimes for less than Texans pay."

Wright acknowledged that the pipelines are not always to blame. "The real culprit is a ludicrous stack of federal natural gas regulations that are sticking it to the consumer and causing him to pay some costs that would not be there in a free market."

He cited two cases in the Detroit area where a pipeline finally got permission from federal regulators to sell natural gas 26 percent cheaper than the going rate, but only until April 80. The Federal agency denied permission to Another pipeline in the same area to drop their rates because there was no "emergency" caused by customers not using their natural gas.

"In the meantime," Wright said, "politicians from these areas are blaming producers for high prices and say they want more controls. But it is the controls they've already approved that have their own voters turning their pockets inside out. If producers or pipelines want to drop their rates, why shouldn't they be able to do it without seeking Washington?" Wright added.

Producers Invited to Swine Short Course

College Station—Swine producers attending the 1983 Swine Short Course will be treated to a full day's program dealing with a host of topics ranging from herd health and slaughter hog marketing to litter and farrowing management. This year's short course is slated for April 11 at the Lulling Foundation Farm, Luling, with registration beginning at 8:30 a.m., announces Dr. William D. Thomas, swine specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Rather than holding the annual short course at Texas A&M University as in past years, we are moving the program close to producers to reduce their travel time and time away from their operations," says Thomas. "Furthermore, the Lulling Foundation has same new bar testing facilities that should be of interest to producers."

The short course will open with a discussion on transferring property to the next generation, with particular emphasis on tax management.

A key item in swine production is herd health, says Thomas, and how to plan and initiate a herd health program based on disease prevention will be discussed.

Another interesting topic, according to Thomas, will be how to make the most of all buildings by repairing or modifying them to maintain or increase production efficiency.

A panel discussion on management practices featuring six successful pork producers will conclude the morning session. These producers will discuss management practices that work for pasture and land breeding systems, farrowing management using Smidley type farrowing houses and central farrowing houses, and growing and finishing pigs in dirt lots as well as in confinement systems.

A new pork carcass value program and results of Texas production barrow tests will be discussed during the afternoon session, notes Thomas.

In addition those in attendance will get a look at 20 pigs currently on production test at the Lulling Foundation. These pigs will be slaughtered shortly after the short course, and carcass information will be sent to all short course participants.

Another panel discussion will center on opportunities for Texas pork producers to market slaughter hogs, with emphasis on increasing market efficiency and prices.

The annual short course will conclude with a choice of two activities for participants—touring the new bar test station at the Lulling Foundation or witnessing a past morism examination at a pig.

A $10 registration fee will be charged for the short course and may be sent in advance to Dr. William D. Thomas, Room 212, Kleberg Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Tex. 77843.

Feeders Were Easier at Most Locations During Past Week

St. Joseph, Mo., 25 (USDA) — National Feedlot Cattle and Calf receipts this week 178,500, last week 207,000, year ago 247,000. Slightly higher grain prices hampered demand for feeder cattle this week. According to the USDA Livestock and Grain Market News Service, feeder steers and heifers generally steady to 2.00 lower. Most notable exceptions were Sioux Falls where feeders sold steady to 2.00 higher. Oklahoma City had steers under 700 lbs. steady to 1.00 higher, Arkansas heifers steady to 1.00 higher, Wyoming heifers were 1.00-2.00 up. Montana and California saw prices steady to firm while calves in Washington were firm to 2.00 higher and yearlings firm to 1.00 higher. Monty Williams of Duncanville, Texas, is pictured with his grand slam winning heifer R & J Blossom. The grand slam win was worth $5,000 in special award money and will enable Monty to get a great start in the Angus business. The heifer was bred by R & J Ranch, Briggs, Texas.

Williams Angus Heifer Wins Grand Slam

BY BILL HALL

For 17 year old Monty Williams of Duncanville, Texas it began on a cool, calm day in April when he and his Vocational Agriculture Instructor, Gary Bucholtz, made a journey to R & J Ranch, Briggs, Texas, in search of a really good Angus show heifer.

Assisted by Ken Conway, Manager of R & J, and Jim Reasen, Marketing Manager at R & J, and Gary Bucholtz, Monty finally picked out R & J Blossom 901, a March 6, 1981, long, framy and growthy heifer. Thus this began a long and successful relationship between these two.

With a lot of long, hard hours of hater breaking, grooming and feeding this great heifer, it was apparent that this heifer could go far in the show ring.

AND SHE DID. As Monty took her to the National Junior Angus Show held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, there were 486 head shown which made it the second largest Junior Angus Show ever held. R & J Blossom and Monty represented Texas well as she won her class in this monstrous show.

Blossom continued to grow and improve so next came the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, Texas. This was an Open Angus Show with 106 head exhibited. Monty's heifer was selected Reserve Grand Champion Female.

The State Fair of Texas in Dallas was next on the show circuit and Monty not only won his class, but won Grand Champion Angus Heifer out of fifty-eight head shown.

The competition in the Junior Shows in Texas ran deep in quality, and numbers. Monty would have his work cut out for him if he were going to try to win every major show in the state, which had never been done before.

Not only was Monty trying to win the grand slam, but he had another goal to reach. R & J Ranch this year was offering a Sweepstake's option, which meant for every major show in Texas, if an R & J heifer was selected Grand Champion, R & J would present a $1,000.00 to the junior exhibitor of that heifer. And to make this pot sweeter, if any exhibitor won any three of the majors (National Junior Heifer Show, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio or Houston) they would receive a bonus of an additional $2,000.00.

The Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show held in Fort Worth proved to be a strong show not only in numbers but depth of quality. 139 head was exhibited and again Monty was Grand Champion.

The San Antonio Show meant a great deal to Monty, not only could he be just one step away from winning the Grand Slam, but it meant receiving the bonus money offered by R & J. Well, Monty came through again and up to this date he had built up a pretty nice collagen fund of $5,000.00.

The final leg of the Grand Slam was upon him at the Houtoo Livestock Show, where probably in the strongest Angus Junior Show in Texas this year, he reached his goal. R & J Blossom was selected Grand Champion female 119 head competition.

This story is just beginning; for Monty is using this great female in an embryo transplant program to build his own Angus herd and the money he received will help him continue his education. I am sure not only was his heifer a winner, but Monty will go far in life with his hard work and attitude on life.

Tax Credit for Energy Savings

Taxpayers can still insulate themselves from both the elements and some of their tax obligations by taking advantage of the energy tax credits, the IRS says.

The law provides for a tax credit of up to $800 for energy conservation materials installed in the home, with a separate credit of as much as $4,000 for taxpayers who install "renewable" energy source items such as solar or wind equipment, the IRS says.

The credit for energy conservation materials is figured at 15 percent of the first $2,000 spent on such items as storm or thermal windows and doors, insulation, weather-stripping and caulking. Also qualify are furnace replacement burners, flue-opening modifications, electrical or mechanical ignition systems to replace gas pilot lights, and clock thermostats. Only materials installed in homes that were substantially completed before April 20, 1977, are eligible for this energy credit.

The "renewable" energy source credit is 40 percent of the first $10,000 invested in qualifying solar, wind, or geothermal equipment used to heat, cool, or provide hot water for use in the home according to the IRS.

Both credits are available for items purchased and installed on a taxpayer's principal residence on or after April 30, 1977, and before January 1, 1986. The "renewable" energy credit is available for both existing and newly constructed homes. Renters as well as homeowners are eligible for the credit.

For additional information on energy credits, taxpayers can order free IRS Publication 908, Energy Credits for Individuals, by using the handy order form in the tax package.

LOVE THAT is not expressed in loving action does not really exist, just as "talent" that does not express itself in creative works does not exist; neither of these is a state of mind, or feeling, but an activity, or it is a myth.

AJPHA Convention to be Held During National Show

The 20th Annual National Paint Horse Championship Show to be held July 24-30 in Oklahoma City, Okla., will provide the setting for the American Junior Paint Horse Association's National Convention.

In addition to the committee and directors meetings, the AJPHA Convention features an awards banquet and dance, a swim party and a Junior Judging Contest.

Thousands of entries will compete for national recognition in open performance and halter classes at the 20th Annual National Paint Horse Championship Show. The program at the Oklahoma State Fairgrounds in Oklahoma City, Okla., July 24-30 will include classes as varied as the Paint Horse is versatile.

can go a long way in improving your calf crop," says Sprott. "All heifers should be fertility tested before being placed with cows. Bulls with good performance records can improve calf weaning weights for a number of generations." Sprott also advises cattlemen to consider a controlled breeding season of 90 days or less in the cooler months. This can result in increased reproductive performance by eliminating late-calving cows and avoiding reduced fertility during hot weather.

"Once calves are born, weaning weights can be increased by using implants or growth stimulants," says Sprott. "A number of implants are on the market today and they all work. They cost about a cent a day and give an average forage or feed is available. At today's prices the implants pay for themselves within 15 days, and from there on it's a money in the bank."

Many cattlemen are cutting back on inputs where possible to make their operations more efficient during these trying economic times. The practices outlined above can help cattlemen stay in business by increasing profits, contends Sprott.

Colorado Directs

Greeley, Mar. 26 (F-S) — Slaughter steers and heifers on a live basis closed .60 to mostly 1.00 higher as a need for numbers overcame buyers' wariness of the dressed market. Carcass basis prices largely 1.00 higher. Trading on feeder classes mainly contracts on cattle to move into Colorado from other areas. Steers 5.825. Bulk choice 2-4 1075-1250 lbs. 68.00-68.50 FOB, closing 65.25 to mostly 66.00; some earlier with end of good 64.50; few largely choice 65.50 delivered at midweek; scattered sales good to mostly choice 2-3 Holsteins 1125-1200 lbs. 57.50 delivered to 60.00 FOB. Carcass basis - hot weights - modest share of the week's volume, mostly choice 1100-1175 lbs. 103.00 to mostly 104.00 in-state; net good to mostly choice 2-3 Holsteins 1200 lbs. 97.00. Heifers 6.960. Most choice 2-4 975-1050 lbs. 68.75-64.50 FOB; others 65.50-64.25 delivered; some with end of good down to 62.25 FOB; others including commercial 61.00-61.25. Carcass basis - hot weights - again a major share of the week's sales, mostly choice 100.00-102.50, late sales mostly 102.00-102.50; few loads mixed good and choice 99.50 early, in-state.

Feeder cattle 4.900. Medium, some large frame 1 - several strings steers 480-625 lbs. 75.50-78.50 laid in from out of state, April to early June delivery. Sizeable number steers 700-750 lbs. for delivery during May and August, price to be determined from a privately agreed formula during the interval before delivery. One set heifers 875 lbs. 62.00 laid in, early May delivery.

Paying Practices For Cattlemen

College Station — Certain management practices can put money in the bank for cattlemen — up to $90 more per cow each year.

Practices that virtually guarantee a net return are pregnancy testing, sorting and feeding cattle according to need, selecting bulls on performance and implanting steers.

"These practices can mean extra dollars because they help increase the calf crop and weaning weights," points out Dr. L. R. Sprott, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "This means more pounds of beef going to market, and that's the name of the game."

Pregnancy testing is the easiest way to increase herd fertility and reproductive efficiency," emphasizes Sprott. "This allows you to cull open cows and to get rid of free-loaders — those cows that aren't producing a calf every year."

Proper nutrition goes hand-in-hand with pregnancy testing in that heifers and cows in good body condition breed faster and have higher calf crops, notes the specialist. Properly fed cows often have calf crops exceeding 85 percent and they also produce more milk, resulting in heavier calves at weaning. Cows in poor body condition often have calf crops below 70 percent.

"Selecting bulls on their performance can go a long way in improving your calf crop," says Sprott. "All heifers should be fertility tested before being placed with cows. Bulls with good performance records can improve calf weaning weights for a number of generations." Sprott also advises cattlemen to consider a controlled breeding season of 90 days or less in the cooler months. This can result in increased reproductive performance by eliminating late-calving cows and avoiding reduced fertility during hot weather.

"Once calves are born, weaning weights can be increased by using implants or growth stimulants," says Sprott. "A number of implants are on the market today and they all work. They cost about a cent a day and give an average forage or feed is available. At today's prices the implants pay for themselves within 15 days, and from there on it's a money in the bank."

West Kansas Feedlots

Dodge City, Mar. 26 (USD) — Slaughter steers closed 1.00-2.00 higher, heifers 1.00-1.50 up. Many "Show Lists" were eliminated by the slow but steady cattle purchases. Slaughter steers somewhat substantial due to unfavorable weather and weighing conditions. Two to six inches of snow fell over the area early in the week, and Friday and more rain and snow forecast over the weekend are compounding feedlots ability to keep pens and bunk clean. Sales confirmed on 23,200 slaughter steers and 12,200 slaughter heifers for a total of 35,400.

Steers throughout the period, choice 2-4, mostly 3 1040-1250 lbs. 65.50-67.00, 66.50-67.00 late; choice with end good 64.00-66.50, 1150-1275 lb. Holsteins 67.00-68.00; mixed good and choice 63.00-65.50, 1225 lb. Holsteins 58.50. Heifers: throughout the period, choice 2-4, mostly 3 950-1025 lbs. 63.00-64.50, 64.00-64.50 late; choice with end good 62.00-64.00 with end commercial 62.00-62.50; mixed good and choice 62.50.
